Since 1824, The Shelbourne has been at the heart of Christmas in Dublin. For over two centuries, families and friends have gathered here to celebrate the season, and the cherished traditions of Christmas continue to shine through in every glittering detail of our holiday festivities.

The Shelbourne was welcoming guests for Christmas even before many of the season's most beloved traditions took hold in the English-speaking world.

The first known Christmas card was designed in 1843, the same year that Dickens wrote A Christmas Carol. Queen Victoria's German husband Prince Albert popularised the idea of a decorated Christmas tree in 1848. The modern incarnation of Santa Claus first appeared in Harper's Magazine in 1863. Over the years, as all these customs and more made their way to Ireland, Christmas at The Shelbourne evolved into the magical, indulgent celebration we share with our guests today.

THE SHELBOURNE

CELEBRATING CHRISTMAS SINCE 1824

Your Old-World Christmas AT The Shelbourne

The Shelbourne has always been Dublin's most distinguished address, a by word for elegance and luxury, and the destination of those in the know.

This year, experience all the excitement and old-world glamour of The Shelbourne at Christmas time for yourself. The Shelbourne is the joyful centre of Dublin's holiday celebrations: here you are only steps away from world class Christmas shopping on Grafton Street and the most exciting cultural areas of the city.

After a frosty walk through the magical St. Stephen's Green, the warmest of welcomes awaits you back at the hotel. Every corner of this grand, historic hotel is adorned for the holiday, and every moment is perfectly orchestrated for enchantment. This is the most elegant and effortless way to experience Christmas: magnificently appointed guest rooms and suites, refined menus inspired by the flavours and aromas of the season, festive signature cocktails served in opulent surroundings, and impeccable service at every turn.

The Saddle Room

The Saddle Room

If there was ever a time and a place to indulge in feasting and all the culinary delights of the Christmas season, this is it. At this time of year, The Saddle Room has a very special atmosphere. The lavish comfort of this time-honoured favourite is the perfect setting for holiday gatherings, with old-fashioned Irish hospitality evoking the wonders of Christmas past, present and future.

Festive Lunch & Dinner

Festive Lunch and Dinner menus are offered throughout December. Meet with friends, family or colleagues to savour an unforgettable meal and toast the joys of Christmas. The George Moore Suite

Named after the distinguished playwright and novelist, The George Moore Suite boasts a glittering crystal chandelier and magnificent views of St. Stephen's Green. An elegant escape from the Christmas bustle of the city outside and a beautiful setting for a merry evening with friends.

24 Guests

The Constitution Suite

The most famous room in The Shelbourne took its name from a momentous event in Irish history. This is where the Irish Constitution was first drafted in 1922, under the chairmanship of Michael Collins. With sumptuous silk wall coverings, a breathtaking crystal chandelier, and wonderful views of St. Stephen's Green, this is an unforgettable venue to share an evening of Christmas luxury with your guests.

22 Guests

The St. Stephen's Suite

St. Stephen's Green has often been called "The Shelbourne's garden", and it holds a special place in the history and heart of the hotel. Overlooking its namesake and with a stunning ornate ceiling and elegant crystal chandeliers, the St. Stephen's Suite provides a glittering backdrop for your Christmas celebrations this year.

48 Guests

The Adams & Deirdre Suite

Elegant, extravagant, and imposing, the Adams Suite can host up to 84 guests for dinner with dancing in the adjoining Deirdre Suite. This is a spectacular stage for a holiday event your guests will remember long into the new year. A private bar, enchanting views of the bustling and beautiful St. Stephen's Green, silk wall coverings, ornate ceilings and dazzling chandeliers all add to the warmth and majesty of these rooms.

84 Guests
